Paula Reed Ward is a reporter with the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, having joined the paper in 2003. Since that time, she has covered the criminal trial of Jerry Sandusky, the death penalty trial of a man accused of killing three Pittsburgh police officers and the case involving the death of Antwon Rose II. She also covered the Tree of Life mass shooting in Squirrel Hill.

Paula's first book, Death by Cyanide: The Murder of Dr. Autumn Klein, was released in October 2016 by ForeEdge. Before moving to Pittsburgh, Paula worked in Savannah, Ga., and Pottsville, Pennsylvania. She has a bachelor's degree in journalism and a master's degree in criminal justice.

Founder of the Mindful Writers Groups, Madhu Bazaz Wangu has published books on Buddhism and Hinduism and is an award-winning novelist. Currently she is working on, Writer's Journey to Self: A Guidebook and Workbook. Her CDs "Meditations for Mindful Writers" help develop focus, remove obstacles and increase the creative flow. She is the winner of Indie Excellence Book Award and Next Generation Indie Book Award for her debut novel, The Immigrant Wife.

Local Pittsburgh author, Sydelle Pearl, is a former librarian. Her latest book, ovel set in the Warsaw Ghetto, is titled Wordwings. Wordwings has been named a Sydney Taylor Notable Book by the Association of Jewish Libraries; it has received a Skipping Stones Honor Award, an Accolade from the American Folklore Society, a Royal Dragonfly Award, and a Storytelling World Award. Sydelle has had five book signings at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, DC.

Local Pittsburgh author, Sydelle Pearl, is a former librarian. Her latest book, a novel set in the Warsaw Ghetto, is titled Wordwings. Wordwings has been named a Sydney Taylor Notable Book by the Association of Jewish Libraries; it has received a Skipping Stones Honor Award, an Accolade from the American Folklore Society, a Royal Dragonfly Award, and a Storytelling World Award. Sydelle has had five book signings at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, DC.